Michael Roffe captured this month's image at the Royal Bathurst Show.

The photo, pictured on our newsletter cover, was taken during an early morning start on the main arena with the entire ground draped with a thick layer of fog.

"Despite the hour and the cold, the showground was a hive of activity ahead of what would be a fantastic day at the show. We were all very thankful when, an hour later, the sun began to peer through the fog, creating a day of stunning weather".

Thank you Michael, for submitting your wonderful pic.
